

Charles Edward Seabright

1887-1917

Acting Bombardier 78359

Royal Garrison Artillery 227 Siege Battery

Charles Seabright was born at Cinderford in 1887, the son of Police Sergeant Hubert Seabright (1863-1933), and a Littledean policeman's daughter, Annie Trinder, who were married at Cheltenham in 1884.

A telegraph boy in 1901, when he enlisted in the RGA Charles was employed as a brewery clerk and had married Kate Wilcox (b1890) at Lydney in February 1910.

The couple had one child, Irene Kathleen, born 27th November 1910, and lived at 'Glenthorne', Aylburton.

He arrived in France on January 7th 1917. In April Charles was injured near Arras and taken to No.8 Casualty Station.

He died from his wounds on 20th April 1917 and is buried at Duisans British Cemetery, Etrun.

In Memory of

Acting Bombardier

C E Seabright

78359, 22nd Bty., Royal Garrison Artillery who died on 20 April 1917

Husband of K. J. Simpson (formerly Seabright), of "The Briars," Shelley, Ongar, Essex.

Remembered with Honour

Duisans British Cemetery, Etrun

Commemorated in perpetuity by the Commonwealth War Graves Commission